

September 8, 2020

The Emory-Georgia Tech Healthcare Innovation Program (HIP) in partnership with the Georgia Clinical & Translational Science Alliance (Georgia CTSA), and the Emory Synergy Award Program, is pleased to announce the recipients of the fourteenth round of research seed grants in Healthcare Innovation. The Seed Grant program funds multi-investigator, multi-disciplinary teams examining healthcare services and clinical effectiveness. The awards support innovative approaches that address issues of healthcare quality, costs, and/or access. The funding priority for this round was to address issues dealing with pandemics.

Community-Focused Assessment of the Experiential Impact of COVID-19

PI: Nadine Kaslow, PhD, ABPP

Professor; Vice Chair for Faculty Development, Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion; Director of Postdoctoral Residency Training in Health Service Psychology; and Chief Psychologist at Grady Health System

Co-I: Courtney Crooks, PhD

Principal Research Scientist, Georgia Tech Research Institute (GTRI), Electronic Systems Laboratory

Co-I: Munmun De Choudhury, PhD

Associate Professor of Interactive Computing, Georgia Institute of Technology

Co-I: David Muchlinski, PhD

Assistant Professor, The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs, Georgia Institute of Technology

Co-I: Benjamin Druss, MD

Rosalynn Carter Chair in Mental Health, Professor of Public Health and Psychiatry, Rollins School of Public Health, Emory University; Adjunct Professor, Morehouse School of Medicine

VIRTUAL CARE: eValuation of an Innovative Reduced-frequency and Telemedicine-sUpplemented prenatal CARE model during the COVID19 pandemic

PI: Sherree Boulet, DrPH, MPH

Assistant Professor, Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics, Emory University School of Medicine

Co-I: Franklyn Geary, MD

Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Residency Program Director, Morehouse School of Medicine (MSM); Director, Division of Maternal Fetal Medicine and Chief of Service, Grady Health System

Co-I: Naima Joseph, MD, MPH

Clinical Fellow, Division of Maternal and Fetal Medicine, Department of Gynecology and Obstetrics, Emory University School of Medicine

Co-I: Angeline Ti, MD, MPH

Assistant Professor of Gynecology and Obstetrics, and Family and Preventive Medicine, Emory University School of Medicine

Please monitor the HIP and Georgia CTSA websites for information on the next round of seed grants.

Fred Sanfilippo, MD, PhD
Director, Healthcare Innovation Program
Professor of Pathology & Lab Medicine and Health Policy & Management
Emory University

Jeff Sands, MD
Director, Pilot Grants, Georgia CTSA
Juha P. Kokko Professor of Medicine
Director Renal Division
Emory University